Today's War Summary

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT from the German high command today makes it clear that the Russian invasion of East Prussia is checked and that the invaders are retreating to their own territory. Germany's version of the events which brought about this about has not been given and it is not known whether there has been heavy fighting or whether the Russians are merely falling back before the largely reinforced German army. With the withdrawal of the Russians, German soil will be freed from hostile forces, except in a section of Alsace.

THE PORTUGUESE FOREIGN minister has announced that his country will carry out the policy decided upon early in the war, involving adherence to the treaty with Great Britain, requiring Portugal to assist with troops. Portugal now has about 100,000 men under arms. The foreign minister did not state whether immediate action would be taken to throw the army into the field with the allies.

ONLY MINOR EVENTS IN TWO THEATERS OF WAR RECORDED

Berlin, Feb. 12.—(By wireless to aville, N. Y.)—The following statement was issued today at army headquarters under date of February 12: "In the western war theater only military duels took place. The enemy expended an enormous amount of ammunition against German positions in Champagne without gaining any success worth mentioning. Near the enemy attempted an infantry attack but was repulsed with the loss of 150 prisoners. The number of prisoners in the Argonne was reported yesterday to have been increased by one officer."

and 119 men. Northeast of Verdun several of the enemy's trenches were taken. A French counter attack made under a Geneva flag was repulsed with considerable loss for the enemy. The fortress of Verdun was shelled by German aviators with about 100 bombs.

"At Sudelkopf, in the Vosges, the French succeeded in occupying a small outpost trench in front of the German positions.

"Eastern theater: The emperor arrived on the battlefield on the Prussian frontier. Our operations here forced the Russians rapidly to give up their position east of the Masurian lakes. At some places the fighting is continuing. So far about 26,000 prisoners have been made. More than twenty guns and thirty machine guns have been taken. The amount of war material taken cannot yet be estimated.

"In Poland on the right bank of the Vistula, the Germans continued the offensive reported yesterday. They took Sierpie and made some hundreds of prisoners.

"On the left bank of the Vistula there is no change.

The Geneva flag referred to above is the emblem of the Red Cross, adopted at Geneva in 1846.

FRENCH POSITION HELD

IS LACONIC REPORT
Paris, Feb. 12, (2:55 p. m.)—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the war which says:

"Between the sea and the Somme yesterday saw artillery fighting. To the south of La Boteville the enemy exploded a mine at the end of one of our trenches. We, however, maintained our position."

"Cold and the frequent use of dense formations are among the causes given for the loss of the Germans. An eye witness of the battle declares that machine guns moved down the ranks of the enemy like a steel blade.

"When the combat ended the Russians saw hills of dead before them. At night, under the glare of searchlights, the undulating mass of wounded made efforts to extricate themselves. Then towards 2 o'clock in the morning they moved no more."

Russians Working Day and Night on Defense

Strenuous Efforts Being Made to Strengthen Second Line of Protective Works, Asserts National Zeitung.

Berlin, Feb. 12, (Via London, 10:40 a. m.)—The National Zeitung has published a dispatch from a correspondent on the Russian border, who says the Russians are employing thousands of laborers to strengthen the second line of defense. At the fortress of Ivangorod, Brest-Litovsk and Kovno men are working day and night.

A correspondent of the Lokal An-zeiger who is in the Carpathian mountains, telegraphs his paper of the very heavy fighting recently in the Dukla pass region.

The Russians, he says, were determined to break through at any sacrifice. It appeared at first impossible to check their attack and they gained slowly but steadily. In the last three days, however, they have been brought to a standstill, but they are still on Hungarian soil and the heights of the pass are in their hands.

The Russian infantry suffered terribly in its massed attack, the correspondent continues. The thawing weather is bringing almost unbearable odors from the field of battle and special sanitary measures are being taken with the idea of preventing an outbreak of sickness.

ENFORCE THE LAW GOVERNOR WIRES SHERIFF

McDonald Instigates Prompt Inquiry to Find Out Situation in Carbon City Regarding Race Feeling.

(State Capital Bureau of Evening Herald.)
Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 12.—Governor William C. McDonald, as soon as informed today of the race feeling at Gallup, wired Sheriff Roberts to enforce the law strictly and to send him fuller information.

The telegram was as follows: "R. O. Roberts, Sheriff, Gallup, N. M.: 'What is the trouble? Enforce the law strictly. Advise me fully immediately.'"

"W. C. McDONALD."

The governor did not know how serious the situation was and has received no word from Gallup, but has received the following telegram from Albuquerque: "Governor McDonald, Santa Fe, N. M.: 'Most Honored Sir: We the undersigned association do hereby in the name of humanity and the citizenship of this state appeal to your excellency that you take immediate action for the protection of the innocent colored people in the town of Gallup. We do not wish nor desire to harbor or shield from lawful punishment any member of our race, but we do ask that they who have transgressed the law be dealt with as all other citizens irrespective of race or color. We pray your immediate action in this apparently most momentous problem. (Signed)'"

"ALBUQUERQUE BRANCH OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COLORED PEOPLE."

The race feeling reached a high pitch last night when a colored porter and a white woman were found occupying the same room in a rooming house. All negroes were warned to leave the town before sunrise today by placards and handbills distributed freely.

RUSSIAN INVASION OF EAST PRUSSIA WILL BE SHORT

Immense Bodies of Troops Thrown Into District by German's Splendid Organization and Strategic Railways.

London, Feb. 12, (12:15 p. m.)—The Russian invasion into East Prussia appears, judging from dispatches reaching London, likely to be short lived as were the previous Russian raids into the same district. Germany's superb equipment and strategic railways in this territory have enabled her within a few days to throw immense bodies of troops against the invaders. In the present case the German soldiers appear to have been rushed into East Prussia from both Poland and interior points.

In the Carpathians the situation looks favorable to the Russians, who are pressing against the Austrian defenses at three of the most important mountain passes and this in spite of the difficulties interposed by snow blocked roads. Berlin admits that the Russians have entered Hungarian territory at several points in the Carpathian district, but declares that these positions were most dearly bought in view of the terrible casualties inflicted by Austrian artillery and machine guns on the Russian massed formations.

The London newspapers profess to believe that the German submarine attack on the British steamer Laertes flying the Dutch flag will precipitate more stringent measures against German trade, which was promised by Premier Asquith in a speech delivered yesterday in the house of commons. The Daily Mail says it believes the government will announce a complete blockade of the German coast, as a result of which all goods to Germany by sea will be liable to seizure.

COMPLETE FAILURE OF GERMAN OFFENSIVE REPORTED
Paris, Feb. 12, (2:51 p. m.)—An official statement given out at the war office today announced the complete failure of the German offensive in Poland. The statement follows: "The failure of recent attacks by the Germans in Poland appears to be complete. The losses of the Germans are unprecedented. It is reported that they exceed 40,000 dead."

Maine, Danforth of New York and Gard of Ohio, a sub-committee of the judicial committee of the house of representatives, brought together many of the leading lawyers of West Virginia and a number of organized labor men, on whose complaint the charges were filed by Representative M. M. Meely of the first Virginia district. The resolution under which the committee will take testimony directs that they inquire whether Judge Dayton conspired with certain corporations and individuals to bring about the removal of the late Judge John J. Jackson of the federal district court; whether he has shown marked favoritism to certain corporations in his court; whether he has used his power as judge to further the interests of his son, Attorney Arthur Dayton; whether he has lent his services as judge to coal operators by improperly issuing injunctions; whether he has shown bitterness toward miners on trial in his court; whether he has used his office to discourage miners from exercising their rights to organize and peacefully assemble; whether he conspired with certain corporations in the formation of a carbon trust in violation of the law; whether he openly stated he would not permit the United Mine Workers of America to exist within the jurisdiction of his court; whether he has said in open court that the United Mine Workers were criminal conspirators, and finally whether he has been guilty of any act for which he should be impeached.

The charges were filed after a number of miners had been imprisoned for violating an injunction issued by Judge Dayton in connection with the strike at the Hitchman mine near Wheeling.

The members of the sub-committee accompanied by stenographer and clerks arrived from Washington noon after noon. Judge Dayton said his case would be in the hands of John J. Cornwell as chief counsel.

The general public is invited to attend the Lincoln Birthday celebration of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People to be held tonight at A. O. U. W. hall.

The world has known what Cottolene is for over a quarter of a century

Cottolene established a class of its own over a generation ago. Cottolene was in the front rank of the great movement for bettering household service and for improving food products. Cottolene has always held its place. There is nothing to which it may be compared. There are no secrets in the production of Cottolene. Its manufacture and its constituents are as well known as the simplest things done in every kitchen.

Cottolene

Cottolene is an exact combination of the two finest cooking fats nature produces. The cottonseed oil in Cottolene is pressed from selected seed—it is a grade so choice that it is not listed on the market. It is purer, sweeter and better in food value than most salad oils. The beef stearine is the product of the freshest, finest leaf beef suet known.

It is the exact combination of these two fats which gave Cottolene its high place over a quarter of a century ago, and which has held this place for it.

Cottolene is economical, but better than that it actually improves the quality and flavor of all foods cooked with it—whether it is used for shortening, frying or cake making.
